

COALESCE · INFO

In the future ...

every decision mankind makes is going to be informed by a cognitive system ...
and as a result our lives in this world are going to be better for it.

- GINNY ROMETTY, CEO OF IBM

Accelerate Your Prospect Research

Coalesce dramatically increases productivity of your prospect research team by searching, filtering, and analyzing vast quantities of textual data across multiple sources faster than humanly possible.

Coalesce's powerful artificial intelligence capabilities is personalized to each user's specific needs, leveraging and scaling their expertise.

Examples of how Coalesce can join your team:

- Read 50,000 publications each morning gleaning information about prospective contributors, the same way you read and gather information from the Wall Street Journal.
- Read all the notes from your development offices – current and past – identifying prospective contributors who are ready for cultivation.
- Match prospective contributors with volunteers by identifying where they meet up on boards and other membership activities.

Highlights

- Combines human expertise with machine scalability
- Learns from users to filter only what they need
- Unmatched speed and accuracy
